Creative Extruded Products, Inc.
Tipp City, Ohio

Creative Extruded Products is excited to announced a new enhancement to its website with the addition of informational and instruction videos.

“We have had a great response to our FlexiTrim™ under side moldings using our patented tear away alignment feature” states Brad Gross, Senior Account Manger with Creative Extruded Products. “We were receiving many calls inquiring if our molding was easier to use than other products in the market. We felt that we could demonstrate the ease of use better by adding a video to the website rather than describing it over the phone.” Mr. Gross states that a link to the video is available at www.creativeextruded.com/flexihome.html.

In addition to the video on the FlexiTrim universal molding, Creative produced an information video on its new line of Eco-Trim™ environmentally friendly universal moldings. According to Mr. Gross, “Creative’s Eco-Trim molding is prefect for the installer that is currently using rubber universal moldings but doesn’t like the chalking or blooming of the rubber material.” Information and a link to the video can be found at www.creativeextruded.com/ecohome.html
