

PRE-REGISTRATION NUMBERS MATCH 2008 FOR INDEPENDENTS' DAYS CONFERENCE

Pre-registration for the Independent Glass Association's (IGA) 2009 Independents' Days Conference and Spring Auto Glass Show<sup>TM</sup> have reached the levels of its previous events.

"This is a great sign for our program, industry and association," said Patrick Smith, IGA director of operations. "It means that independents still see our program as valuable and important to attend."

IGA's annual event will be held May 12-14 at the Sanibel Harbour Resort in Fort Myers, Fla. (<http://www.sanibel-resort.com>). Fort Myers was selected as the location for this year's venue to complement the IGA Marketing Conference held in Las Vegas each fall. The move provides a local educational event for both coasts to accommodate the growing nationwide membership.

"We are looking forward to having a timely event for the auto glass industry," continued Smith. "We have added three seminars since our initial conference schedule was released in order to cover current issues and the hotel is offering us an upgrade ballroom since we have used more rooms than originally in our room block."

The trade show floor will be open May 13 and 14 for auto glass suppliers to meet with attendees. Limited exhibit space is still available through the IGA.

For the first time, you can also follow the events of the 2009 Independents' Days Conference and Spring Auto Glass Show<sup>TM</sup> live as they happen on Twitter (<http://twitter.com/igaman>).

The IGA is the only association dedicated to the needs of independent glass companies in North America. Its members are also dedicated to the professional and ethical installation of glass in a safe and proper manner.
