The Independent Glass Association, together with the Minnesota Glass Association, is presenting an educational seminar entitled “Supreme Court Decisions: Impact on Auto Glass.” Chuck Lloyd of Livgard & Lloyd, a trial attorney who has represented individuals and businesses in trial and appellate courts, will be presenting the seminar. Lloyd has long represented auto glass dealers across the county.

The seminar is scheduled for Wednesday, October 28, 2009 at 5:30 p.m. in St. Paul, Minn., at the Dakotaland Warehouse. Registration is due by October 23 via mail or fax. CLICK HERE to print the registration form and sign up for this significant educational opportunity.

Meeting attendees will hear about both the Minnesota and Connecticut court cases and decisions. Lloyd will discuss what these cases mean for independent shops and what each shop should be doing. The seminar will explore how independents ended up in the courts and how they should move forward from the current state. It is open to companies with 150 locations or less.
