

Molloy Business Development Group

Language of Commitment™ Training Programs

Contact: Deidra Lookingbill
Email: dlookingbill@molloyllc.com

For Immediate Release

October 30, 2008

Empowering People, Managing for Results™
Molloy Business Development Group, LLC Offers New Class

Molloy Business Development Group, LLC, creator of the patent-pending Language of Commitment™ program, announces a new offering, Empowering People, Managing for Results™. This new course is designed to teach participants the core competencies of management and leadership.

This one-of-a-kind course teaches an array of skills and practices designed with the unique needs of managers in mind. Some of the skills a participant will learn in the Empowering People, Managing for Results™ course include how to:

- Convey the company vision to inspire and motivate employees.
- Promote efficiency, coordination, and cooperation through clearer communication.
- Generate, track, and follow up on employee/customer commitments.
- Provide employee feedback to promote learning and workforce improvement.
- Present with greater poise, clarity, and confidence when speaking to small and large groups
- Coach people to improve and grow in their positions.

To learn more about the Empowering People, Managing for Results™ course or other Language of Commitment™ programs, visit our web site at <http://www.molloyllc.com> or give us a call at (888) 310-5000.

###