

PPG AutoGlass names new zone program manager to glass alliance team

PITTSBURGH, July 10, 2008 –PPG AutoGlass, a consolidated affiliate of PPG Industries (NYSE:PPG) and a leading supplier of auto glass and glass shop accessories, recently named Tony Jones to the role of zone program manager within the glass alliance team. In this role, Tony will support the PROSTARS program, its participants, and new initiatives.

“Tony is no stranger to the auto glass industry,” said Jim Richardson, director of the PROSTARS glass alliance program. “He brings 18 years of auto glass experience to our team, ranging from field sales to executive management. He spent 14 years with Harmon Auto Glass, and previously owned his own glass company in Atlanta. We’re excited to have Tony on board and we look forward to his contributions as we continue to grow PROSTARS and our glass alliance programs.”

Jones is a graduate of Central Washington University in Ellensburg, Wash., with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration.

Introduced in 1999, PROSTARS was developed to enhance the marketing, customer service and quality performance of independent glass shop retailers. PROSTARS participants have access to some of the most powerful sales, marketing and business development tools ever built for the auto glass industry. PROSTARS is a nationwide, independent alliance of auto glass professionals who back their work with a national warranty. To learn more about safe, quality, professional auto glass repair and replacement, or to find a PROSTARS location near you, visit www.ppgprostars.com and use the dealer locator, or call 1-866-2-THEPRO.

PPG AutoGlass is a consolidated affiliate of PPG Industries, formed with the U.S. automotive replacement glass distribution businesses of PPG and Apogee Enterprises. The PPG AutoGlass organization is comprised of management from PPG's auto glass replacement branch distribution centers and Apogee's former Glass Depot wholesale company.
