

PILKINGTON CLASSIC

PRESS RELEASE

Time is Ticking!

Pilkington Classic AGTO Registration Closing in Just 2 Weeks

Time is running out and you don't want to miss your chance to win the bragging rights of being the Best Auto Glass Technician in the World™. On September 25, registration will close and you don't want your name not to be on the list. The Fifth Annual Pilkington Classic Auto Glass Technician Olympics is the best place for technicians to showcase their skills and compete for the honor of the title, and recognition as best in the business.

Co-sponsor AGRR Magazine is bringing you the Pilkington Classic on November 6-7 at the Mandalay Bay Convention Center in Las Vegas.

“We are so thrilled to be able to hold this event for the fifth year,” says Holly Biller, event director. “It is such a great opportunity to experience such a unique educational forum and interaction with the best technicians from around the world.”

This event will allow competitors to compete against the best technicians from around the world.

The champion and the company he or she represents will receive extensive media coverage; use of the Pilkington Classic AGTO winner logo on stationary, business cards and advertising for one year; a full-page ad and coverage in AGRR magazine, and not to mention some very big bragging rights.

It's not too late to enter and prove you are the best.
