

IGA Board Excited To Welcome New Management Team

Dear IGA Member:

I am emailing you today to announce a pending change for the Independent Glass Association.

Mike Russo, our current Executive Director, will be transitioning out of this position over the next month. After serving many great years on the Board of Directors and in his current position over the past year, Russo will be moving on to pursue other interests outside the auto glass industry. The IGA Board of Directors holds Russo in the highest respect and wishes him the best in his future endeavors.

In this time of change, the IGA Board of Directors has selected Centric Management and Consulting to manage the Association, effective June 1, 2011. Centric has a strong history with glass, currently managing a handful of associations in the glass industry, including the Glass Association of North America. The Board of Directors looks forward to continuing its legacy of representing the independent glass service provider with enhanced opportunities, stronger advocacy and renewed dedication to providing its members with the best Association possible. Centric is also committed to this mission, and the IGA Board of Directors looks forward to working with them.

Beginning June 1st, IGA's contact information will be:
