IGA FALL CONFERENCE, AUTO GLASS TECHNICIAN OLYMPICS
RETURN TO AUTO GLASS WEEK @ NACE

Pre-registration for the new Independent Glass Association (IGA) Fall Conference and third annual Auto Glass Technician Olympics (AGTO) will open next Friday, June 15. IGA members and prospective members will have the opportunity to attend and to experience what is fast becoming one of the most important industry events—Auto Glass Week @ NACE.

The IGA Fall Conference will take place at the Mandalay Bay Convention Center in Las Vegas, November 2-3. For the third time the IGA will co-sponsor the AGTO, which will return to the NACE show floor for the second year in a row.

Additionally, the IGA is preparing a strong line-up of educational seminars for attendees as well as access to additional auto glass events taking place in the same venue as part of Auto Glass Week™. IGA seminars begin on Saturday, November 3 and will cover topics such as marketing, public relations and a legislative update.

The AGTO takes place Friday, November 2 and Saturday November 3.

“2007 has turned out to be a huge year for the IGA. We continue to work to help our members succeed and survive in the industry. By attending the Fall Conference, independents will place themselves in the middle of what is turning out to be the auto glass industry’s largest annual event,” said Patrick Smith, director of operations for the IGA.

To register, visit www.iga.org. Pre-registration opens June 15 and runs through October 12, 2007 at 5 p.m. EST.

The IGA is the only association dedicated to the needs of the independent glass companies in North America. Its members are also dedicated to the professional and ethical installation of glass in a safe and proper manner. IGA members are located in all 50 states and ten countries.
