Mainstreet Computers, Inc., leading supplier of glass shop POS and accounting software and custom web design, is reducing their website hosting renewal fees to all their customers.

Businesses are looking at every cost-cutting measure to make it through this financial crisis. Mainstreet has observed how companies that continue to invest in website marketing are finding success despite the dire economic condition.

This reduction is an effort to help businesses maintain their internet presence. “We hope to provide some relief to glass shops that are struggling in this challenging economy,” said David Carnahan, President of Mainstreet Computers.
