National Glass Exchange Unveils Road Guardian Warranty to Independent Insurance Agencies

TRINIDAD, Co – (Auto News from June 10, 2008) - The National Glass Exchange (NGE) released its Road Guardian Warranty in a bold and innovative program for the new cash market for windshield replacement that has emerged benefiting AGR shops, Insurance agencies with the consumer benefiting overall. Road Guardian gives NGE partners the competitive edge in a volatile competitive market.

"The Road Guardian program fills the gap in comprehensive Auto Insurance coverage by providing windshield coverage if the consumer has a deductible," says Jim Pruce, President and CEO. The Road Guardian Warranty not only fills that protection gap but has been extended to include up to two windshield replacements per year and still saves the consumer money overall.

"To our knowledge, this is the first time that a cooperative advertising and marketing campaign is pairing up AGR shops and Independent Insurance Agencies for the purpose of providing full service for the consumer as well as driving business for the partners", Read entire release at <http://www.nationalglassexchange.com/press.html>.
