Register Now for the Fourth Annual WRO Before It's Too Late

Registration for the fourth annual Walt Gorman Memorial Windshield Repair Olympics will close in just five weeks on September 25 at 5 p.m. EST. There are only a few spots left and you don't want to miss the chance to be the only champion named 2009 "Best Windshield Repair Technician in the World."

The Windshield Repair Olympics is the premier windshield repair competition where technicians come together to challenge and learn from one another. This year, the competition returns to the Mandalay Bay Convention Center in Las Vegas. The event is co-sponsored by the National Windshield Repair Association (NWRA) and AGRR magazine and will be held alongside the Auto Glass Expo @ NACE.

The competition takes place Thursday, November 5, and is open to all. Eligible technicians must work in a genuine operating auto glass company and have at least one year of experience in the industry.

The winner receives $1,000 and title of "The Best Windshield Repair Technician in the World." The winner's company receives extensive media coverage, use of the Windshield Repair Olympic Winner logo on stationery and business cards and advertising for one year, and will be featured in AGRR magazine.

This competition is the only event of its kind devoted solely to auto glass repair. Along with the opportunity to display their skills in front of industry professionals and manufacturers, contestants will be given free entry into the NACE trade show, the Auto Glass Technician Olympics (replacement) and the Congratulatory Cocktail Party on Friday night.

Walt Gorman was the owner of A-1 Windshield Doctor in Seekonk, Mass., an AGRR columnist and an industry icon sharing nearly 20 years of his life with the auto glass repair industry. Gorman served on the National Windshield Repair Association board of directors for ten years and was one of the association's founders. This competition honors his commitment and the commitment of others to the finest techniques and safety in the industry.

Don't miss your chance to take on the challenge. Register early to guarantee your slot; the deadline is right around the corner.
