Don't Wait Any Longer or You'll Miss Your Chance Registration for the Fourth Annual WRO Closes Friday

Time is running out to register to compete for the fourth annual Walt Gorman Memorial Windshield Repair Olympics (WRO). The deadline is almost here—Friday, September 25, at 5 p.m. EST registration will be closed and you will have missed your chance. The top prize this year is $1,000 cash.

For its fourth year in a row, this event will take the best repair technicians and give them an arena in which to showcase their skills to each other as well as industry leaders. In addition to entry in the competition, competitors receive networking opportunities with fellow technicians and manufacturers, admission to the congratulatory cocktail party Friday night, admission to the NACE trade show and admission to view the replacement competition, the Auto Glass Technician Olympics, November 6-7.

The champion receives a cash prize of $1,000 and wins the title of “The Best Windshield Repair Technician in the World.” The winner and the company he or she represents will receive extensive media coverage; use of the WRO winner logo on stationery, business cards and advertising for one year; use of the 2009 Walt Gorman WRO logo for an unlimited time and a full-page ad and coverage in AGRR magazine.

It's not too late to prove your skills and vie for this top honor in repair.
