

Enumclaw Insurance Group partners with Windshields.com

Windshields.com is pleased to announce a partnership with Enumclaw Insurance Group. This new partnership provides a new capability where insureds can compare their deductible versus market pricing on auto glass before filing a claim. This new functionality allows insureds of Enumclaw Insurance Group to make a more informed choice when deciding to process a claim, allowing them to compare the dollar difference between their deductible amount and the market price. Many times insureds are able to get their auto glass replacement needs handled more cost effectively by dealing directly with the glass shop. When that is the case, this new tool allows them to choose from a list of registered retailers in the Windshields.com database based on their location.
